Words from Lander Kennedy

Wow! Can you believe Rainbow Camp is already here?! I feel like this year has flown by so fast! Probably because it has...I'm so excited for this crazy 80's weekend! Have you ever had Spirit Week at school? We did and my favorite theme was always the 80's dress up days where I got to wear my sweatshirt on one shoulder and my hair in a side bun. I look forward to seeing all of you girls (and adults) in your boss 80's gear!

What's your motivation? Is it your family, grades, scholarships, or even Rainbow? All of these are great reasons to be motivated. But how do you stay motivated? Exercise is one way to give you a quick mood boost to push through to the end of a last minute project. Do a couple of jumping jacks. Get your blood pumping and excite your neurons! Lunge to your office, it's the perfect way to get motivated and help you stay motivated for the work you are about to get done.

Another thing I do when I start to lose my motivation is to write a list of everything I need to get accomplished. When I see what needs to be done in writing I get excited to finish my tasks so I can cross it off the list. It is a good feeling to cross it off your list because you did it! You'll be amazed at how much you can get done if you just get busy and do it.

Who doesn't?

That is why Rainbow Camp is so awesome! It's the blood pumping, neuron exciting, list starting thing we need before Grand Assembly! I hope everyone has a great weekend and that we all make use of our time to see our sisters and misters here in Tonopah!

Stay fly,

Lander Kennedy

P.S. Don't forget to take occasional breaks! Go outside; enjoy what nature has to offer.

Song time with the Grand Choir Director

Hello Everybody,

I hope you all had a great Christmas and a Happy New Year. I wanted to remind everyone, that you can still join Grand Choir. If you want to join Grand Choir please talk to your Grand Deputy or Mother Advisor. Don't forget about the talent show, if you want to sign up for the Talent Show please come see me (Leeann White) and let me know what your talent is. I can't wait to see each one of you at Rainbow Camp.

Some Advice from Brittany

Why Hello Nevada Rainbow Girls! I hope everyone has had a good holiday season. I know I have! Any who, being a new Grandie, I find due dates to be pretty scary because they not only apply to my rainbow life but also to my school life. As a senior I now know the true meaning of procrastination. I hope that each and every one of you have been working on your school work as well as your rainbow work, because getting behind only creates bad habits. One example is waiting till the last second to look at your ritual or to studying the day before a huge test. I will admit that I have done both and it only makes my stomach hurt and makes me wish I had taken the few seconds it takes to review.

I can already tell

Grand Assembly is going to be great, but only if everyone helps out with the little things. And there are many little things you and your assembly can be doing, like raising some extra money for the trip with a bake sale.

Ladybug love,
Brittany Crosby

Being True to Yourself and Others

Ello everyone!

I hope you all are as excited for camp as I am! My favorite thing about camp is getting together with everyone and just chillin.

I hope all of you are ready for a great time at Grand Assembly and I know that it will be one of your best rainbow memories you will have.

I am so pleased to see our state growing as much as it is. You girls are this organization and without new members, where will we be tomorrow? Keep up the great work with making your assembly grow and we will show everyone what's up in the end when our numbers for membership show all your hard work.

Know that one of the most important lessons you will learn in this order is to serve others and have a great time doing it!

I hope all is well in the South and I miss you Southern girls very much! Keepin it real in the North is a challenge but I think everything is adjusting well.

All my pinky promise love,
Samantha

Working Hard for Alzheimer's with Daylite

Hi everyone!!!

Daylite hosted an Alzheimer's Pancake Breakfast for the Southern Nevada area:) It was held on Saturday January 22, 2011 at the Masonic Memorial Temple from 8:00am to noon. We all went to the temple Friday night to set-up for the breakfast. We decorated the room in purple and purple ribbons and set-up the tables for the 16 vendors that were coming. Each vendor paid $45 to participate and donated a $25 item to the raffle and some additional items were donated.

Our great vendors were, Mary Kay, Kathy's Creations, Scentsy Candles, 3 Sisters Creations, Jan Marie Glass Art, Knitting by Carol, Any Occasion Favors, Pampered Chef, Wind-er Farms, Keep It Real, Baby dolls, Tupperware, Bag Lady, Cookie-Lee Jewelry and Purseanality Handbags!

Luis Carrillo who is the Regional Director for the Alzheimer's Association in Southern Nevada was at our event! He really enjoyed it:) He had a table full of information about Alzheimer's and he was so HAPPY that Rainbow Girls were there to raise money for Alzheimer's. He has invited us to help with their state event every year!

Mr. Bolshazy, Mrs. Bolshazy, Mrs. Brandt, Mrs. Corrales and Mrs. Ellithorpe cooked the food! YUMM..... WAS THAT GOOD!!!! Pancakes, Sausage, Bacon and Fruit:)

We served breakfast to 75 people and sold 245 raffle tickets!

Daylite raised..... DRUM ROLE PLEASE!!!!!!.....$1,000 for the Alzheimer's Association:) WHOO HOO:)

There were 16 Daylite Girls and a total of 8 hours of service, which comes to 128 hours for the Alzheimer's Association!!!!

We hope to turn this into an annual event!!!! So watch for us next year:)

The Wonders of Camping and not in a Hotel!

Hi J Brooke Tuerke here reporting from the comfort of my nice warm bed after a rainy, chilly and muddy but fantastic camping weekend in Utah with my assembly.

It all started early one Saturday morning watching the weather forecast and realizing that we were going to get rained on! On the drive up there, we had just missed the rain but we got to see a deer and mud! After lunch we decided that we had better get our tents up before we adventured out into the wilderness and mud. Let me tell you how important that page of instructions is to build a tent....

I don't know who had more fun, the girls building them, or the adults watching them try to figure it out! Thanks to Mr. Brandt, we had completed four tents, sturdy enough to cover use at night. Thank Goodness because it rained!

After our tent building lesson, we headed off to find a spot that was not too muddy to explore.. Mrs. Corrales told us that we had to check out this super pretty lake. What she hadn't told us was that it was one and a half miles hike to get to it! (was this fat camp and they forgot to tell us)??

We hiked across this really cool bridge and when we saw Mirror Lake, we knew that she was right! Shelby took us rock hopping at the river while the adults watched from the top. They were taking bets on who would fall in first. No one won, because of course it was me!!!!!!!

I had to listen to Sherrie telling me where to step and then oops there I went camera and all!! Alyssa was my hero and she even offered to be my bride (I love you Alyssa)!

After dinner and smores, we headed to our tents, but we knew that sleep was still far away!

Daylite has these saran wrap bandits that seem to strike where ever we may be..... but duck tape isn't very quiet in the middle of the wilderness. We won't name any names, but a few of them are related. Mr. Bolshazy's fishing boots even got sealed for their protection.

When we got up in the morning, 2 Grand Officers ditched their tent-mates for the comfort of a warm couch. And the cars were oh so nicely decorated with saran wrap and duck tape. When someone went looking for a snack and couldn't find anything, Sara's tent was the place to be. Seven of us did a number on that food!

After eating breakfast, we went back to the lake for one last hike around, except, 1/2 way along the trail, what started with sprinkles turned into hail!

With a mile between us and the cars- we were soaked! BURR..... On the way, we saw the Bolshazy's and Tuerke's fishing in the rain. Are they CRAZY!!!!!!????? Mrs. Brandt and Mrs. Bolshazy fed us a nice warm lunch before we packed up and headed home.

We all survived without television, texting, and technology- who would have thought.....

I would like to give a HUGE thank you to Mr. and Mrs. Brandt for showing us how much fun we could have with a little bit of rain, a lot of mud and no cell service!!!!!!

The Art of Falling while Skating

Hello you spiffy ladies of Rainbow!

Kayla here to say what a wonderful year it has been! Carson has a new member and she fits right in with the crazy spunky girls of our assembly.

The girls all dedicated some of their holiday break to the annual gift wrap at the "mall". They were all hard workers and had a great time bonding with their fellow sisters.

The ladies also went ice skating recently as the assembly fun trip under Sabrina's term.

The girls were so fun to see trying on their skates and stepping on the ice for the first time. I will admit I did fall towards the end. Though I must say it was considered graceful compared to some of my sisters spills but they all got right back up and kept going. So kudos to them.

Well my darlings I am off to jump on the band wagon of service! Have a spectacular day!

“Something I think that needs to be said more is how grateful we are to have our Rainbow Adults”

Ah the Cars of the 80s!!!

Hello everyone, its me Angela, Grand Representative of Indiana, Iowa-Minnesota, all the way over here in Winnemucca.

Us Winnemucca girls have been busy, We were in the Veterans Day Parade in Winnemucca. It was so much fun, my dad let us girls decorate his 1981 Corvette with the Nevada Rainbow Girls website on the back window and we put a homemade Winnemucca Assembly # 10 fabric banner on the hood of the Corvette. The girls and I also made a paper banner. Two of the girls walked with it in front of the Corvette in the parade. The girls also handed out flyers about our open meeting on November 21st.

After the parade my family and I went to Wal-Mart and everyone wanted to know all about Rainbow girls. Sadly we had a winter storm on November 21st and no one was able to come to our open meeting.

Something that i think needs to be said more, is how grateful we are to have our Rainbow Adults. I have seen so many things that the adults have done. They make sure we are on time to our activities, they help us set up things, and so much more. I think that everyone needs to than all our Rainbow Adults for the great job they do keeping us going. So when you are at any Rainbow Activity remember to thank you Rainbow Adults

Boulder Celebrates Christmas

Boulder #8's newer, larger, assembly had 100% attendance from those living in town, to celebrate Christmas this year with a party.

The girls began their evening at Panda Express, where their families and friends all joined together for dinner, and helped themselves in the process, with the 20% refund/fundraising plan at that restaurant.

Next, all 16 girls and 3 adults moved the party to the O'Connor house, where the hot tub was warming, and gifts were waiting 'neath the Christmas tree. After exchanging gifts with "Secret Sisters", each girl received a custom-made apron, made with love by their Advisory Board.

Countless cookies were waiting for artistic (?) decorating—and eating!! Talking, laughing, watching movies, and hot tubbing ensued until all finally slept at around 4 a.m. Good night, sleep well, and Happy New Year, Boulder #8

The Rain

The Rain

It was a busy morning, about 8:30, when an elderly gentleman in his 80's arrived to have stitches removed from his thumb. He said he was in a hurry as he had an appointment at 9:00 am.

I took his vital signs and had him take a seat, knowing it would be over an hour before someone would be able to see him. I saw him looking at his watch and decided, since I was not busy with another patient, I would evaluate his wound.

On exam, it was well healed, so I talked to one of the doctors, got the needed supplies to remove his sutures and redress his wound. While taking care of his wound, I asked him if he had another doctor's appointment this morning, as he was in such a hurry.

The gentleman told me no, that he needed to go to the nursing home to eat breakfast with his wife. I inquired as to her health.

He told me that she had been there for a while and that she has Alzheimer's Disease.

As we talked, I asked if she would be upset if he was a bit late.

He replied that she no longer knew who he was, that she had not recognized him in five years now.

I was surprised, and asked him, 'And you still go every morning, even though she doesn't know who you are?'

He smiled as he patted my hand and said, 'She doesn't know me, but I still know who she is.'

I had to hold back tears as he left, I had goose bumps on my arm, and thought, 'That is the kind of love I want in my life.'

True love is neither physical, nor romantic.

True love is an acceptance of all that is, has been, will be, and will not be.

The happiest people don't necessarily have the best of everything; they just make the best of everything they have.

'Life isn't about how to survive the storm, But how to dance in the rain.'

Enjoy life now—it has an expiration date!

Things about Ladybugs

Hey Campers!

I cannot believe it is already time for camp! It seems like just yesterday I was wondering about which bow project to choose. Now, my bow project has been successful and completed, and it is already time for Grand Assembly. Crazy, but exciting! Well, other than that, it seems like we've all been doing good down in the LV. It has been a good year, Daylite has had tons of fun with helping with the Ronald McDonald House, Alzheimer's, Sunrise Children's Cancer Ward, Living Springs Lutheran Church, and all other sorts of fun projects! Not to mention Faith's Teas, Initiations, Installations, and visiting other assemblies. It has been a fun packed year and I cannot wait to see what Lander has in store for Grand Assembly, I'm sure it will be among the best! Well got to go but here is a fun facts about ladybugs!

- Ladybugs are born black
- There are at least 5000 different kinds of ladybugs
- The ladybug is a type of beetle
- Ladybugs are able to produce a smelly chemical to scare off predators.
- Baby ladybugs take only about a week to grow into an adult.
- Ladybugs typically love to eat aphids
- Ladybugs hibernate in the winter
- Ladybugs live off of their stored fat while in hibernation.

- In order for a ladybug to fly they must beat their wings 85 times a second.
- Ladybugs are cold blooded
- A ladybug will bite if you squeeze it.
- As a ladybug gets older their spots will fade.
- A female ladybug lays about 1000 eggs in her lifetime.
- The male ladybug is smaller than the female.

P.S. "This is my wish for you: Comfort on difficult days, smiles when sadness intrudes, rainbows to follow the clouds, laughter to kiss your lips, sunsets to warm your heart, hugs when spirits sag, beauty for your eyes to see, friendships to brighten your being, faith so that you can believe, confidence for when you doubt, courage to know yourself, patience to accept the truth, Love to complete your life."

Things from Faith

Hey everyone, Its getting close to spring and that means there's going to be a ton of things to do with rainbow. I know as grand Faith there is going to be new member parties where everyone is allowed to come and bring their friends.

I cant wait for grand assembly to see all the new girls that each and everyone of you have brought in.

This year has been fantastic with the membership growing. From here all we can do is go up.

I am so excited to see each and everyone of you at rainbow camp, which is going to be here before you know it.

One of Faiths job is to insure that new member parties are being held and your assembly is planning fun events for you and your prospective members. Make sure that you become friends with the new members, because if they feel like they are apart of a group they are more likely to stay.

So far this year, we have had good attendance for the new member parties, so when the next ones come up, I would love to see even more of you there.

Well until next time have some faith and keep

Things Mrs. Jacka

This school year, a Past Worthy Advisor from Mt. Rose Assembly #13, became a foreign exchange student – and is currently living in Taiwan. Dutifully she is writing home to her assembly, keeping in touch with the girls and adults, sharing her experiences. Some of her comments from her first letter to the Assembly are SO worthy sharing with all of Nevada Rainbow.

"I know sometimes we wonder, though we love Rainbow, why do we have to memorize this part? What's the point? Is there really a Pot of Gold or is it just part of a really old ritual by some out-of-date generation? Actually, as we get older, we have to find the beauty in a challenging world. Rainbow's lessons will fall upon our ears and give us hope."

.... "Being a Rainbow Girl is something we DO. It's a way of life. Its following what our organization teaches us. So, take the lessons of Initiation and try to act on them every day. That is how they become important to us.... Play them out in your daily lives.... You must love Rainbow for others to love it.

It is beautiful and if we can just get it right and take pride in getting it right –our floor work, our parts, our corners – its all part of it.... Leave nothing out."

These snippets come from a long and inspiring message from Taylor Gadda.

CAMP GREETINGS from Mrs. J

Don't you just love this time of the year? Its crisp outside - certainly not hot – and fresh – just waiting for the first daffodils of spring to pop out of the earth and bloom! I think our Nevada Rainbow is blooming right now and I am more than EXCITED. Our membership numbers are way up – and, while that number remains a surprise until Grand Assembly, it is VERY exciting. Membership is an area we constantly need to be working on.... Bringing in multiple members EACH term in EACH Assembly, caring and nurturing those girls (and their parents) so they become a real part of our Assemblies.

I am also very excited to see our Service Hours increasing, and our commitment to our Statewide Service Project, the Alzheimer's Association, receiving more and more attention. I encourage each of you to establish a personal goal for service hours, and to work towards that. Please remember that, while service to our community and to others is very important, our lives need to be balanced with other things like family, friends and having fun with them, school work, and QUIET time. WHEN was the last time you curled up in your room, no iPod playing, no cell phone nearby, no interruptions – and just read a book – or colored in a coloring book – or made entries into your journal. A healthy – and productive life – is about balance.

In all this hustle and bustle, I know each of you is getting ready for Grand Assembly! Lander and each of our Grand Officers –and many, many adults, are working hard to make this the BEST "Ride of our Lives." I know you will be there – I'll be waiting to greet you and give you a big hug.

Rainbow love, Mrs. J

“As I grew with Rainbow, more and more doors opened for me.”

Giving and Receiving in Rainbow

When I was initiated into Rainbow, I was told that the more I put into Rainbow, the more I can get out of it. At age eleven and being new to this organization, I really had no idea what they were talking about. It wasn't until much later, that I understood the meaning of that advice. In my first term in Rainbow, I really wasn't that active. I went to my Assembly meetings and some extra Assembly events. I liked Rainbow then, but I wasn't very active until I became a Trailer. Being the Trailer to my particular Grand Officer, enabled me to become even more active with Rainbow. My Grandie made sure that I went everywhere with her. I went to all of the Official Visits, all of the Receptions, most of the Installations, and aided in several initiations. Being this active in Rainbow opened to me several opportunities that I would otherwise not have.

As I grew with Rainbow, more and more doors opened for me. First, I was able to make many friends all throughout the state as a result of all of the traveling I had done, of which I am still good friends with today. In addition I was able to display my memory work and was asked to participate in many more Installations and Initiations. I was given the opportunity to become a Trailer and later on a Page. I was able to represent Nevada at my very first Supreme Assembly and participate in the Cavalcade of Flags my second time. I got the chance to represent Nevada at the Supreme Seminar with Lisa Stokes a few years back. Being active has allowed me the chance to become a Grand Officer not once, not twice, but three times. Rainbow offers a wonderful scholarship program of which I will take part in this year. But above all I was taught that no life is complete without the knowledge of service. These opportunities have made themselves appear throughout my Rainbow career and I know that several more are on their way.

I do not expect you to go to every event all of the time. I know that we all have lives outside of Rainbow and that we like to live them. However, make it your goal to participate one level higher in Rainbow. Whether it be participating in all of your Assembly activities, or going to all of the Official Visits and/or Receptions, or to visit other Assemblies. This goal would be easier if you would combine both your Rainbow and non-Rainbow lives together. For example, introduce your friends outside of Rainbow to our wonderful organization. Some may even join Rainbow. If they don't, they would understand why Rainbow meant so much to you. Like Mrs. Jacka tells us, Rainbow is a full time job: live it for 24 hours 7 days a week.

I can tell you that these crazy people who gave me the original advice were absolutely correct. So now from the bottom of my heart I beg you to put into Rainbow all that you've got because you will get out of Rainbow exactly what you put into it.

All of my Lipsy Love,

Melissa Teston

News From Reno!!!

From Reno #1 Hey Lady Buggettes, whatz UP!

Reno #1 has had an awesome year and initiated 7 girls! And we are looking forward to an AWESOME Rainbow Camp! The girls have worked hard, had a fun Mystery Trip to Clay Canvas, Mrs. Kingsbury faked the girls out by first taking them to a Park and told them they had to clean up the trash, the girls then found out they weren't picking up trash but getting back in the cars to go somewhere else. After a few circles in Reno we ended up at Clay Canvas and the 11 girls that came painted and had a lot of creative fun. Team Reno Rocks, Come visit us!

Mrs. Doughty,
Assistant Mother Advisor

Words from Pledge!!!

Pledgy Hugs and Kisses to All,

Raindrop Pledge is growing and we have 2 new members being initiated on January 4th, Cadence and Abby and the girls are very excited. Cadence is the granddaughter of Terry Tholl, Past Grand Deputy and daughter of a Past Grand Officer, See what goes around DOES come around again! Abby has a great family and has already filled in several offices before her initiation. Great Girls, Welcome to Raindrop Pledge.

Raindrop is working on a project for Grand Assembly 2012 and is looking forward to seeing Pledge Girls from the South at Rainbow Camp so they can join in our project, shhhhhhhhhh it's a secret but you'll see!

Also, for the first time in 7 years, Raindrop now has an Assistant Pledge Mom, Mrs. Kelly Potts, a former Reno #1 Grand Officer. Her daughter, Kylee is the Sister of Friendship. Welcome Mrs. Potts.

Proud of you All.....Mrs. Doughty, Raindrop Pledge Mom

Hello, My Lovelies,

We are having a great first half of the year for Membership, let's double it for the second half of the year! Assemblies are growing and girls are getting excited about new members, so continue to talk about Rainbow and share the fun we have with others in your conversations, talk about what your assembly did with a Service project or Crazy Dinner or Mystery Trip, just talk. When you are sincere about what you do in Rainbow, in anything, you become infectious and people want to be where you are and do what you do. I am excited for Rainbow Camp and hope to meet all our new girls and aren't you EXCITED to show them what FUN Camp is? I knew you would be.....Mrs. Doughty, Director of Membership Nevada North ;- D

A Poem from Sarah Grand Charity

Hello all Grand Charity again, I hope you all had a fantastic Christmas and a Very Happy New Year. As all of you probably know already I am selling my raffle tickets with the coin purses that say "Lively Ladybugs" on them for a chance to win the big prize this year at my reception that is going to be held in April. As many of you know this year the big prize is a three piece zebra print luggage set and there are other prizes also to win. If you have not had a chance to buy your raffle ticket then you can either see me at Rainbow Camp and I will have them or the Charity in your assembly has them and you can go see her. Also at Rainbow Camp I am going to be doing the Grand Charity Sweet Shoppe so come buy some goodies and other stuff we will be selling there. Hope to see all of your smiling faces at Rainbow Camp this year. Here is a poem I found and it is called

"Ladybug, Oh Where Are You"?

Ladybug, ladybug
Red with black spot are you,
Climbing up that rose
You are in view...
ladybug, ladybug
Oh where are you now,
The sun is down,
I don't see you around...
Tucked away
Inside a rose,
Do you lay
Sleeping sound?

Down a country lane
Or on my window pane...
Ladybug, ladybug
Please come back again.

Rainbow Love,

Sarah White

From Angela Lausch

Oh my gosh! It is finally time for Rainbow Camp. I have been waiting for it to be time to go to Rainbow Camp and now it is here. I love everything about going to Rainbow Camp, how we all bond with the other girls in our assemblies on the way to camp and at camp, but at camp we also get to bond with other girls. I know that we are all going to have such fun rocking the 80's.

I hope everyone got to camp safely and I hope that everyone has a safe trip home.

Car Rides Gone Bad? Immortality's Tips

Hello Everyone,

I hope everyone is enjoying...

ummm... everything!! I especially want you to enjoy the long car rides ahead of you. Think about a road trip. Was it long and hot? Were you bored to death with nothing to do? Well, never anymore! With long road trips ahead of you in your Rainbow life, I would like to inform you on ways to make the time fly by.

1) Eye Spy: Try to make this simply game exciting by not only saying "I spy (insert color)," but to also do different textures, letters, or even shapes.

2) Make a Cootie Catcher! This is an easy to make game that any "older" rainbow girl should know. Tons of fun and you can predict your future!

3) Make a song about your rainbow adventures. This can be with a recognizable tune like "Row, Row, Row a Boat" or "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star." You can even make up your own tune. Work as a group and have fun!

4) This next game is usually best after a louder, more "annoying" game (as the adults would think) like the make your own song game. This is called the silent game. Let the driver become the judge and to make it even more exciting, add a prize. Even if you are the first for the bathroom line, that is still a prize! Just shhhhhhh... Be quiet.

5) Play the "good news" "bad news" game. Take turns making up a story that goes from good news to bad news. For example, the first person starts out by saying "There once was a girl who lived in a beautiful castle...." The next person continues: "Unfortunately—the castle was attacked by a fire-breathing dragon...." Then the next person says "Fortunately, a huge thunderstorm started, putting out the dragon's fire...." The story continues, going back and forth between fortunate and unfortunate things.

I hope this can make your car experiences better than ever and make you anxious for your next road adventure.

With lots of enjoyable Rainbow Love,

Leah Ryan
